Leading Real Estate Companies of the World (LRECOTW) who used to be known as RELO or the relocation network, is a network independent companies across the USA and world that refers clients to each other. So if someone from Branson, MO wants to move to Palm Beach Gardens, FL the person in Branson would typically list their house to sell it. The listing agent would find out about the client moving to Palm Beach Gardens and the agent would contact the LRECOTW member in Palm Beach Gardens to help the client find a house. Get it?
